Come visit Atlantis's premier resort at Dumaguete. Atlantis Dumaguete showcases deluxe rooms that have climate-controlled air conditioning, ceiling fans, en-suite facilities, cable television and a fully-stocked refrigerator. There is a freshwater swimming pool that is filtered by the same system that supplies the hotel's drinking water decorated with an exotic waterfall. There is even a golf course nearby. The Atlantis Resort at Dumaguete houses Toko's Restaurant. You can dine on international or local cuisine while seated on the patio, or you can be shaded in the palapa. The diving at Dumaguete is quite spectacular in and of itself, even without the splendor of the resort. The house reef is just outside the resort. There you can see all sorts of weird and wonderful inhabitants. Frogfish as small as your fingernail or as large as your dinner plate. Commensal shrimp that sway in the fronds of anemones or dance on top of bubble coral. Mantis shrimp peek up at you from their burrows. Slightly longer day trips will take you to the world-famous dive site of Apo Island. In the evening, you can dive with the mandarin fish as they come out for their nightly courtship. Wonderful accommodations, delicious fare, tropical weather and top-of-the-line diving make for a perfect vacation.
